About Speaker

Mr. Alex Wong Kam Wah
Registered Physiotherapist / Registered Chinese Medicine Practitioner

Alex is a registered physiotherapist with over 30 years of clinical experience in musculoskeletal rehabilitation and pain management. After graduating from The Hong Kong Polytechnic, he developed a strong interest in acupuncture and completed the Professional Diploma in Acupuncture for Physiotherapists at Hong Kong Baptist University in 1999.

Committed to integrating Eastern and Western healthcare approaches, Alex subsequently became a registered Chinese Medicine Practitioner and obtained a Bachelor of Chinese Medicine from Hong Kong Baptist University in 2007. He further advanced his professional expertise by earning a Master of Chinese Medicine (Acupuncture) from Hong Kong Baptist University in 2011.

Since 1999, Alex has incorporated acupuncture into his daily physiotherapy practice, developing a distinctive treatment strategy for managing neck and low back pain, which has subsequently been applied to a wide range of peripheral joint conditions. His approach combines evidence-based physiotherapy principles with traditional acupuncture techniques to enhance patient outcomes.

Alex has been actively involved in professional education and training. Since 2016, he has served as an instructor for acupuncture courses accredited by the Hong Kong Physiotherapy Association (HKPA), training registered physiotherapists seeking acupuncture accreditation. He has also been a guest lecturer at Saint Francis University for the past four years, teaching acupuncture modules to undergraduate physiotherapy students.

His clinical expertise, interdisciplinary qualifications, and commitment to education have made him a respected practitioner and educator in the fields of physiotherapy and acupuncture.
